Hail, Samuell High; Hail, Samuell High!

This song to thee we sing

We pledge to thee our loyalty

As loud our praises ring

For always to the Gold and Blue

Our hearts will still be true

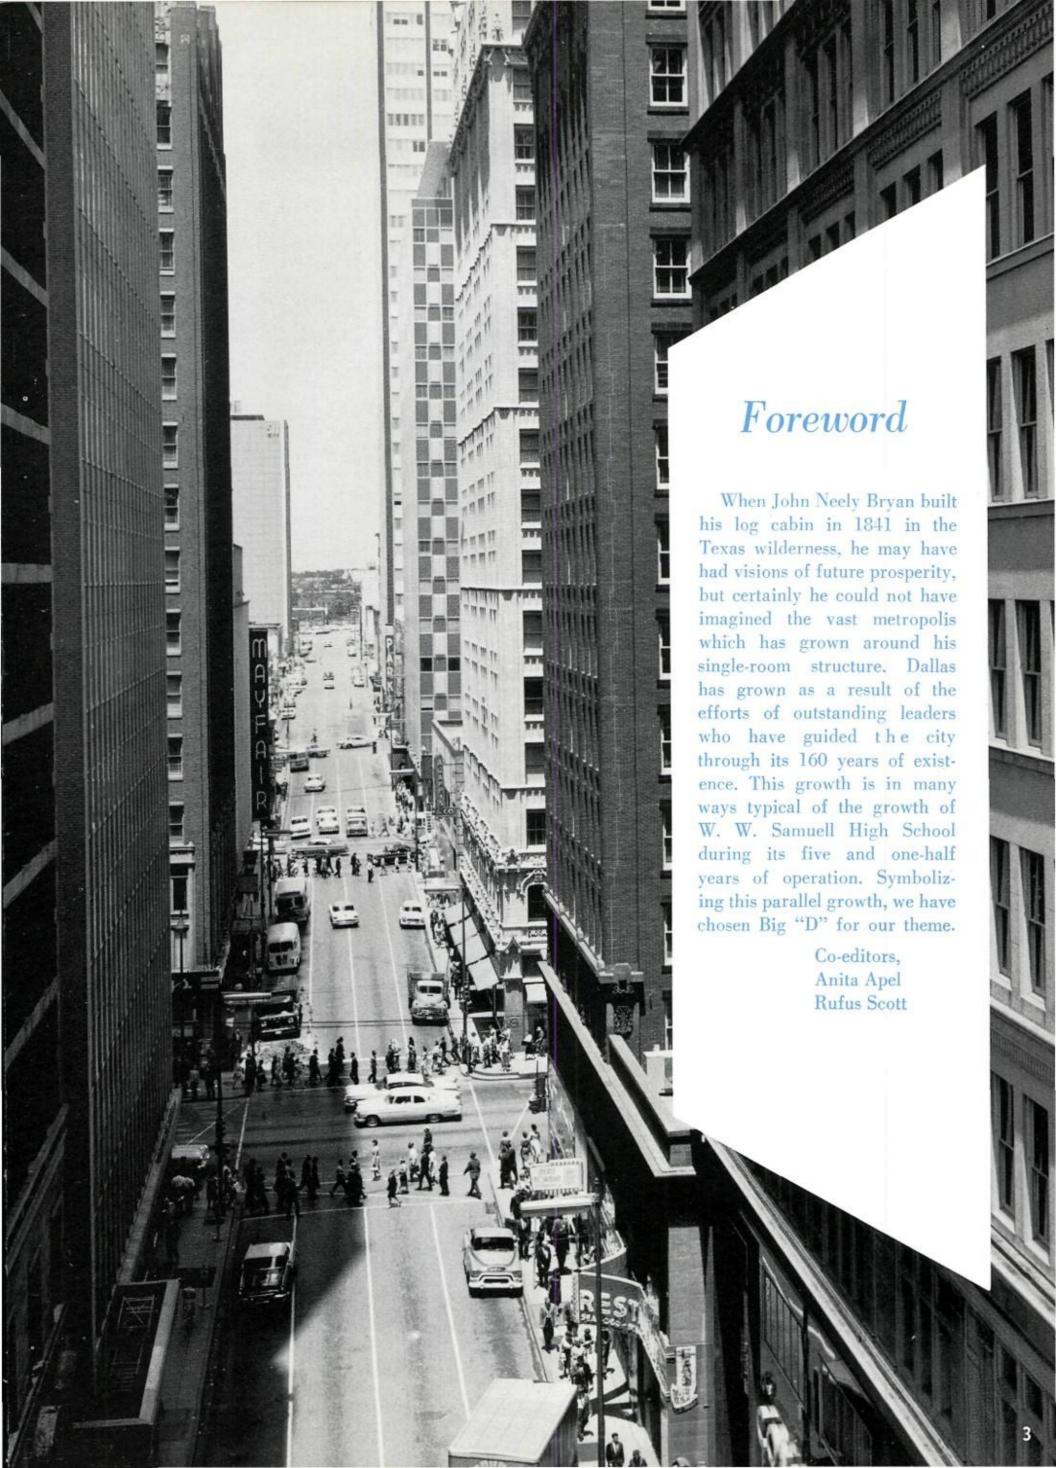

As fighting Spartans we will cry

Our love for Samuell High

Alma Mater

Fight Song

Fight, Spartans, right down the field
Until we score that victory FIGHT! FIGHT!
Fight, Spartans, and never yield
Our pledge of pride and loyalty RAH! RAH!
To our colors of Gold and Blue
We ever shall be true
Go, Spartans, go
Go crashing through that line
And we will cheer you all the time!

Senior Snaps

Linz Pins and Everts Awards are presented at Senior meeting.

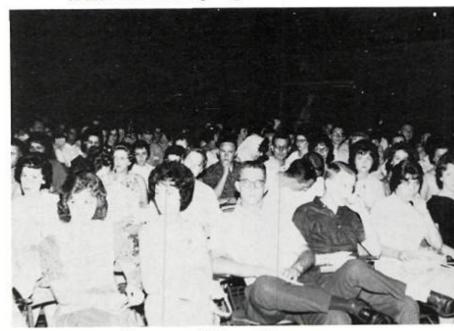

eniors receive Linz Pins and Everts Awards for high academic chievements.

A moment of triumph-graduation is over!

Will I or won't I? That is the question.

Cheer up-It'll soon be over.

Moments

Mike Smith receives awards after being chosen Teenager of the Month.

Lanny just can't seem to leave the girls alone—better watch him, Glenda!

Kay Duncan and Bill Hollywood decorate the tree for Christmas assembly.

Note the exciting, expectant, and impatient (?) looks as Seniors wait for Baccalaureate Services to begin.

Enjoy it while you can for when you hear the clock strike twelve . . .

to Remember

Looks like fun-trade ya?

Observe the look of intelligence as is found on all Senior faces.

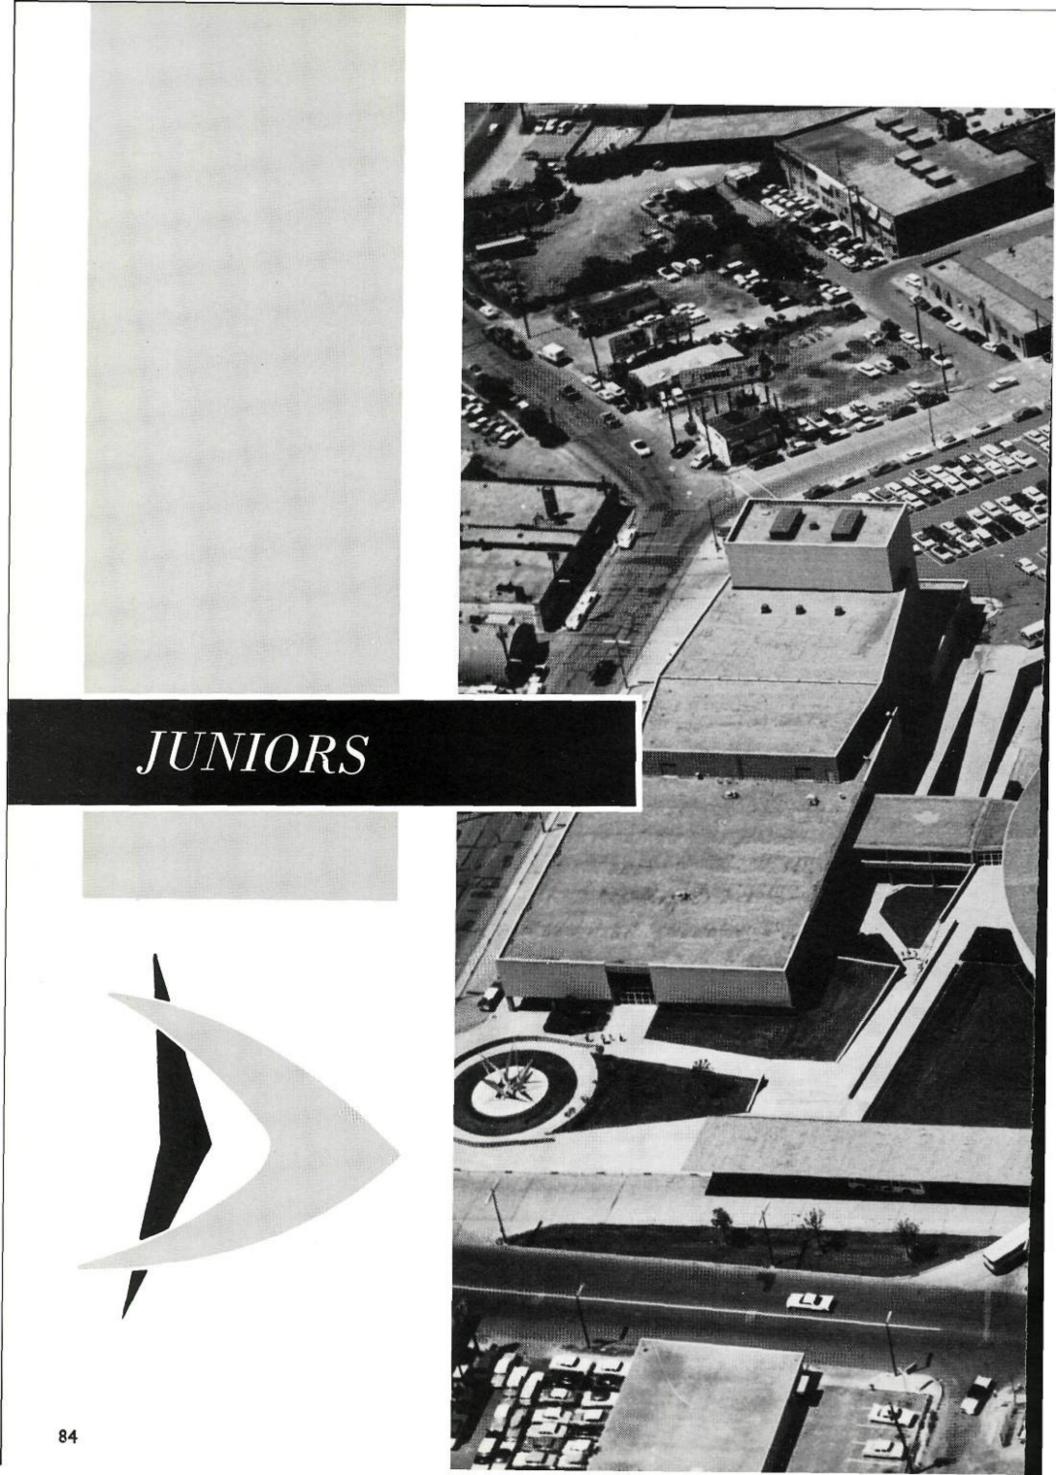

What! James Adams—Teenager of the Month? This is getting out of hand.

Our Cheerleaders

What are Carolyn and Linda up in the air about?

When the Spartan spirit began to lag, along came the weekly pep rally to recharge the student body with enthusiasm. Participants in the rallies were numerous—Blue Jackets, Faculty members, Starlets, and Band. Led by the cheerleaders, the student body loudly voiced their backing of our team—win, lose, or draw.

"CAROUSEL"

Music by RICHARD RODGERS

Book and Lyrics by OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN, II

Based on the play "LILIOM" by Ferenc Molnar as

Adapted by Benjamin F. Glaser

Directed by CLEMENTS B. CROOK MARCH 16, 17, 1962

SYNOPSIS

In 1873, in New England, a barker for a Carousel in an amusement park, invested a man with magnetic glamour. If the man was like Billy Bigelow, it was quite likely that the town's sweetest young girl would fall in love with him-as Julie Jordan did. And so, they were married-against the advice of the townspeople and against the wishes of the Carousel owner, a lady jealously in love with Billy. With marriage, Billy lost his job, and being untrained for life in a fishing village, became desperate in his search for work, a desperation heightened by the knowledge that he was to become a father. He was persuaded by Jigger Craigin, a mean, shiftless sailor friend, to participate in a robbery. Billy and Jigger's plans were unsuccessful, however, because the intended victim brandished a gun and called the police. To avoid capture, Billy killed himself. At Heaven's door, he was informed that he could not get into Heaven unless he went back to earth for twenty-four hours and performed one kind deed. Meanwhile, Billy was allowed a glimpse of his very unhappy daughter, Louise, who is now fifteen years old. Overwhelmed by pity and remorse, Billy stole a star and arrived on earth, hoping to give it to her. Hesitant, awkward, he failed, but he managed to impart a feeling of courage and trust in humanity to the girl-a feeling that gave rise to the hope that she would be a happier person. To Julie, Billy confirmed the certainty that she had not made a mistake in marrying him-that he really had loved her deeply.

Band of 1961-62

PARTAN BAND

MR. MATHIS, director

THE SPARTAN BAND, one of the largest organizations at Samuell, performed at many functions during the year.

Led by Drum Major Antonoy Rosselli, the Band played at halftime and during every football game in the 1961 season.

From a marching band, this group of Spartans changed into a concert band for the second semester. It participated in both the Thomas Jefferson and Dallas Schools' band contests where they received criticisms of their performances.

"The Indigos," the Samuell Dance Band, also participated at a stage band contest at SMU.

During the spring, the Spartan Band, along with the Starlets, presented a variety show to secure funds for the next year.

The Samuell majorettes, members of the Spartan Band, were a prime attraction at all 1961 football games.

To become eligible for majorette, a girl must have at least a "C" average, have participated in "A" or "B" Band, and be rated by the faculty. Their competitive tryouts are then judged by seven faculty members.

The head majorette was chosen by the same faculty committee on the basis of her superior performance, past experience, and originality of routines.

During the summer, the girls are required to attend twirling school at Huntsville.

NDCC Planning

LT. COL. WHITTKOWER

Col. Whittkower described the Samuell N.D.C.C. program for this year as a "very successful year." The corps received an outstanding rating during their annual federal inspection and won the right to wear the honor star during the coming year. The cadets also participated in many events throughout the year.

The rifle team participated in four major rifle matches and ranked third among N.D.C.C. schools. Some of the events in which they participated were: the William Randolph Hearst Trophy match, the Fourth United States Army Interscholastic match, the Arlington Invitational match, and the Trinity Valley Shoulder to Shoulder match.

The "Olympian Guard," the drill team, also had a busy year. Participating in Arlington's Sam Houston Rifles Invitational drill meeting and the Wozeneraft Drill Competition, this group of cadets displayed their skills before groups of judges and received creditable ratings at both meets.

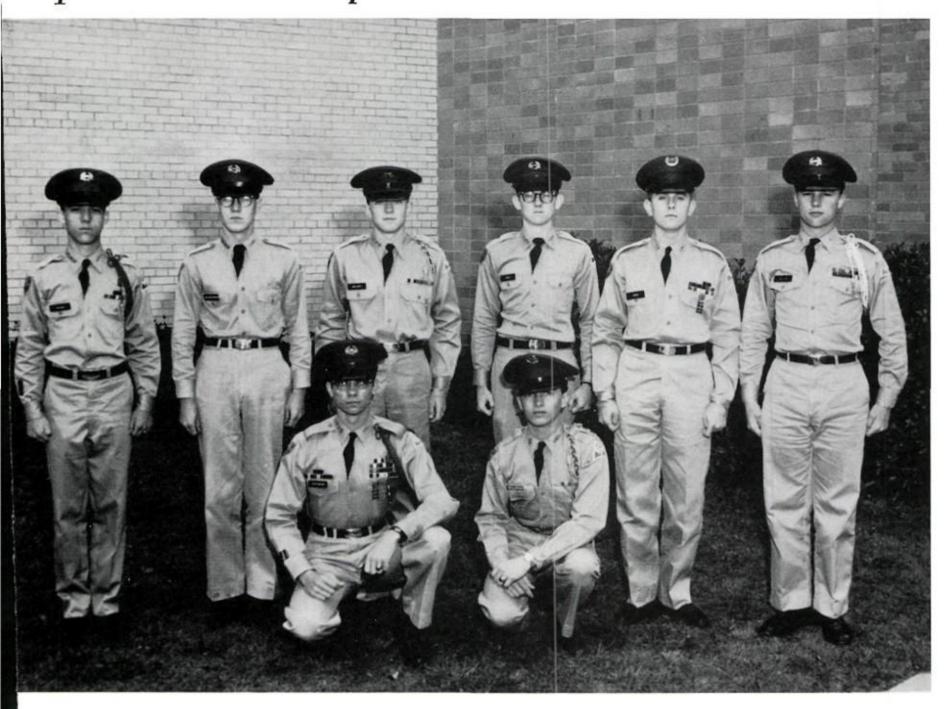

This busy year was climaxed by an excellent military ball. Miss Ann Guinn was crowned Queen of the Ball.
